WHISTLE BLOWING POLICY

INTRODUCTION

ITEC aims to establish and maintain a culture of openness and encourage our staff, Centres and Learners to raise issues which concern them in relation to the delivery of our qualifications and services.

By knowing about malpractice/poor practice, ITEC are able to take the necessary steps to safeguard the interests of our staff, Centres and Learners. In summary, do not hesitate to get in touch with us and 'speak up' or 'blow the whistle'.

However, ITEC recognise that you may be worried that by reporting such issues you may be subject to some adverse action. Therefore, this policy is designed to provide you with information about the Public Interest Disclosure Act as well as the process by which you may Whistle Blow. It also explains that there are certain protections in place to protect Whistle Blowers.

CENTRE'S RESPONSIBILITY

It is important that your staff and Learners are fully aware of this policy and its contents as well as our Malpractice and Maladministration Policy.

ITEC also encourage Centres to have a culture of openness where staff can freely raise concerns about activities and practices without the risk of adverse consequences to their future employment or career.

REVIEW ARRANGEMENTS

ITEC review the policy annually as part of our self-evaluation arrangements and revise it as and when necessary in response to external feedback, trends from our internal monitoring arrangements, changes in our practices, actions from the Regulatory Authorities or external agencies or changes in legislation.

If you would like to feedback any views please contact us via the details provided at the end of this policy.

WHAT IS WHISTLE BLOWING?

Whistle Blowing is when an individual reports suspected malpractice or wrongdoing at work and/or the covering up of malpractice or wrongdoing. Officially this is called 'making a disclosure in the public interest'.

The malpractice or wrongdoing is often committed by the individual's employer or a Learner's Centre although this is not necessarily the case.

Whistle Blowing is different from both complaints and employment disputes.

- Complaints tend to be an expression of personal dissatisfaction (e.g., with a product or service being received and/or encountered) and should be taken forward with the arrangements outlined in our Complaints Policy
- Employment disputes tend to be where a worker has a dispute about his or her own employment position or contract. If you are experiencing such a dispute you should take this up with your employer or another responsible body. ITEC cannot investigate or take any action over such instances

Whistle Blowing Policy

Individuals can raise a concern with us under the arrangements outlined in this policy if they have a reasonable belief that malpractice and/or a wrongdoing is occurring or is likely to occur relating to one or more of the following categories (as set out in the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 - PIDA):

- A criminal act (e.g., the unauthorised use of public funds or possible fraud and corruption)
- A failure to comply with a legal obligation the individual/organisation may be subject to
- A miscarriage of justice
- Endangering an individual's health and safety
- Damage to the environment
- Deliberate concealment of information about any of the above

In addition, an individual raising an allegation under these Whistle Blowing arrangements should have a reasonable belief that the disclosure is in the public interest.

PIDA also gives protection to Whistle Blowers for disclosures to a number of different people such as to employers, to legal advisers, to Ministers of the Crown and to a number of prescribed regulators (for certain purposes). Ofqual – whom ITEC are regulated by in England - are a prescribed regulator for:

- Matters relating to the development, delivery and award of Regulated Qualifications
- Matters relating to national curriculum assessment arrangements
- Matters relating to early years foundation stage assessment arrangements
- Other matters likely to be of relevance or interest to their role as the Regulator of Qualifications, examinations and assessments in England and of vocational qualifications in Northern Ireland

As such, Ofqual has a public Whistle Blowing policy and in this they state that if an individual works for a Centre, which is delivering Regulated Qualifications and they wish to make a Whistle Blowing disclosure to someone outside of their organisation, they should normally consider making the disclosure to the relevant awarding organisation that has approved their Centre to deliver the qualification(s) in question (e.g., us – ITEC.)

You may also decide to contact the relevant Regulator, but they will normally ask the relevant awarding organisation to investigate and report on the subject of the disclosure.

ITEC hope this clarification and policy gives you the reassurance you need to raise your concern with us. However, ITEC recognise that you may still wish to report a concern to the appropriate Regulator. In which case their contact details are provided below:

- Ofqual – the Regulator in England and Northern Ireland: <http://ofqual.gov.uk/complaints-and-appeals/whistleblowing/>

Examples of Whistle Blowing disclosures that could be made to us include:

- A member of staff at a Centre making a disclosure about actual or possible malpractice at the Centre and/or failure to comply with the terms of the Centre's Centre-Recognition Agreement with us (see our Malpractice and Maladministration Policy for examples)
- Making a disclosure about possible malpractice being carried out by a member of ITEC
- A Learner or parent/guardian making a disclosure about possible malpractice at one of our Centres

- In case of doubt on how best to proceed you can speak in confidence to Customer Services here at ITEC (contact details are provided at the end of this policy) or Public Concern at Work (see next section.)

SEEKING INDEPENDENT ADVICE

This document sets out our Whistle Blowing arrangements which are aligned with the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 (PIDA.)

This legislation protects workers who make a protected disclosure of information, concerning certain types of matters relating to their employment, from being dismissed or penalised by their employers as a result of the disclosure.

The Act also has the effect of making confidentiality clauses unenforceable where a protected disclosure is made.

You are recommended to take advice before making a Whistle Blowing allegation to ascertain your rights under the Act. For example, if you want independent advice at any stage about your rights and protection, ITEC recommend that you contact Public Concern at Work (www.pcaaw.co.uk) which is a registered charity and is the independent authority on public interest Whistle Blowing.

HOW TO WHISTLE BLOW

To raise an allegation under these Whistle Blowing arrangements, please contact ITEC Customer Services (contact details are at the end of this policy.)

Upon making an allegation, it is helpful to provide as much information and supporting evidence as possible to help inform the nature of any investigation ITEC will carry out.

Although it is important to note that it is not essential to have clear evidence before making an allegation under this policy - ITEC just ask that you explain as fully as you can the nature of the allegation or circumstances that gave rise to your concern.

PROTECTING YOUR IDENTITY

Sometimes a person making an allegation may wish to remain anonymous, although it is always preferable to reveal your identity and provide us with your contact details. However, if you are concerned about possible adverse consequences that may occur should your identity be revealed to another party, then please inform us that you do not wish for us to divulge your identity and ITEC will work to ensure your details are not disclosed.

ITEC will always aim to keep a Whistle Blower's identity confidential where asked to do so although we cannot guarantee this and ITEC may need to disclose your identity to:

- The police, fraud prevention agencies or other law enforcement agencies (to investigate or prevent crime, including fraud)
- The courts (in connection with court proceedings) to whom ITEC are required by law to disclose your identity
- Other third parties where ITEC consider it necessary to do so (e.g., the Regulators)

The Investigator(s) assigned to explore the allegation will not reveal your identity unless the Whistle Blower agrees or it is absolutely necessary for the purposes of the investigation (as noted above.) The Investigator will advise you if it becomes necessary to reveal your identity against your wishes.

A Whistle Blower should also recognise that he or she may be identifiable by others due to the nature or circumstances of the disclosure (e.g., the party which the allegation is made against may manage to identify possible sources of disclosure without such details being disclosed to them.)

WHAT ITEC WILL DO UPON RECEIVING A WHISTLE BLOWING ALLEGATION

Once a concern has been raised, ITEC have a duty to pursue the matter. If the whistleblower(s) subsequently withdraw their concern, it will not be possible to prevent the matter being investigated as ITEC are obliged by the Regulators to follow-up and investigate allegations of Malpractice or Maladministration.

Depending upon the nature of the allegation, ITEC will appoint someone to investigate the allegation who has the appropriate level of training and competence and who has not had any previous involvement or personal interest in the matter.

The person(s) appointed to investigate the matter - the Investigator(s) - may contact/meet with the person who raised the concern (the Whistle Blower) as soon as possible to ascertain the details of their concern. If the Whistle Blower does not wish to make a written statement, the Investigator(s) will write a brief summary of the concern(s) that has/have been raised and the Whistle Blower will be expected to confirm this as correct. A work colleague, trade union representative or another individual (e.g., friend/independent witness) can accompany the Whistle Blower at this and any subsequent meeting.

The Investigator will then conduct an investigation to establish the facts in accordance with the arrangements in our Malpractice/Maladministration Policy.

In all cases, ITEC will keep the Whistle Blower updated as to how they have progressed the allegation (e.g., we have undertaken an investigation) and the Whistle Blower will have the opportunity to raise any concerns about the way the investigation is being conducted with the Investigator(s). However, we won't disclose all details of the investigation activities and it may not be appropriate for us to disclose full details of the outcomes of the investigation due to confidentiality or legal reasons (e.g., disclose full details on the action that may be taken against the parties concerned.) While we cannot guarantee that we will disclose all matters in the way that the Whistle Blower might wish, we will strive to handle the matter fairly and properly.

OUTCOMES OF AN INVESTIGATION

If the investigation results in a proven case of Malpractice or Maladministration, we will take action against the relevant parties in accordance with the arrangements in our Malpractice and Maladministration Policy.

If the allegation is not proven by the investigation, provided you (as the Whistle Blower) did not deliberately raise an allegation which you knew to be untrue, no action will be taken against you by ITEC. If the allegation was made due to a genuine misunderstanding, the individual(s) (e.g., Centre or Centre staff member) who have been the subject of the investigation will be expected to bear no malice or ill feeling towards their accuser and that colleagues should not mistreat a Whistle Blower.

If, however, the investigation concludes that you (as the Whistle Blower) raised an allegation which you knew not to be true, disciplinary action may be taken against you by your employer.
